Implement a system that parses BC expressions and evaluates them.

Basic Calculator (BC) is a calculator language, used for scripting and as an interactive mathematical shell.

Here is an example expression:

    (1 + 9) * 20 / 5
    # == 40

Your program should parse a file, evaluate all expressions, and print the results to standard output.